

Speaker Jim Bob Solsbery

...humor with a message

Jim Bob Solsbery is a "humorist with a message" - an honest, real, no-fluff message of, "It's not what happens to us in life but it's how we react to what happens to us in life."

Jim Bob learned years ago that successful and happy people share two important traits: the ability to take ownership of their attitudes and the ability to laugh at themselves.

Jim Bob has seen many people trying their best to make life more complicated than it has to be. Jim Bob believes we all have to learn when to say "Whoa!" and have an honest, realistic look at our mindset.

Mindset is everything! It is our pre-conceived attitude of our co-workers, our jobs, people in our lives and ourselves. Jim Bob is living proof that we can alter our mindset by consciously developing our healthy sense of humor and consciously taking charge of our attitude.

Jim Bob's book, "Humor Is An Attitude: Sometimes You Just Have To Laugh Your Way Out" reminds all of us that we can take our life mission seriously and at the same time, take our ourselves lightly.

Jim Bob is a humorous speaker and lives in Houston, Texas. His wife, Jan, is a retired educator and conducts technology training for school districts. Their son, Cade, is a policeman and he and his wife, Megan, have beautiful, two year old twin daughters, Madison and Mackenzie. When Jim Bob isn't speaking, it's likely you will find him playing with his granddaughters.
